THE

THE RATIFICATION.

WHEREAS His Majeſty, King George the Third, has been graciouſly pleaſed to iſſue his Royal Letters Patent, bearing date at Weſtminſter, the twelfth day of May, in the forty-ſecond year of his reign, in the words following:

GEORGE the Third, by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great-Britain and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, to all to whom theſe preſents ſhall come greeting:

WHEREAS we have declared our royal intention to eſtabliſh, within our province of Nova-Scotia, in North America, a College for the education of youth in the principles of true religion, and for their inſtruction in the different branches of ſcience and literature, which are taught at our Univerſities in this kingdom.

And Whereas the ſum of four thouſand pounds granted by our Parliament in that part of our united kingdom, called Great Britain, hath been applied in erecting a ſuitable building within the town of Windſor, in our ſaid Province, on a piece of land which had been purchaſed by means of a grant of the General Aſſembly of our ſaid Province for that purpoſe.

And whereas the ſaid building hath been fitted for the reſidence of profeſſors and ſtudents, and an endowment of four hundred pounds, currency, of that province (equal to three hundred and ſixty pounds Britiſh ſterling) per annum, hath been granted for the ſupport thereof, by the ſaid General Aſſembly.

And Whereas humble application hath been made to us by many of our loving ſubjects in our ſaid Province, that we would be pleaſed to grant our ROYAL CHARTER for the more perfect eſtabliſhment of the ſaid College, and for incorporating the members thereof for the purpoſes aforeſaid, and for ſuch further endowment thereof as to us ſhould ſeem meet.

We having taken the premiſes into our Royal Conſideration, and duly weighing the great utility and importance of ſuch an inſtitution, are willing and deſirous to condeſcend to their requeſt: KNOW YE, therefore, that we, of our eſpecial grace, certain knowledge, and mere motion, have willed, ordained and granted, and do by theſe preſents for us, our heirs and ſucceſſors, will, ordain and grant, that upon the ſaid land, and in the building or buildings ſo erected, or to be erected thereon at our town of WINDSOR, in our ſaid Province of NOVA SCOTIA, there ſhall be eſtabliſhed from this time one College, the number of an Univerſity, for the education and inſtruction of youth and ſtudents, in arts and faculties, to continue for ever; and to be called KING'S COLLEGE: and that our truſty and well-beloved Sir John Wentworth, Baronet, Lieutenant-Governor of our ſaid Province, or the Governor, or the Lieutenant-Governor of our ſaid Province for the time being; the Right Reverend Father in God Charles Inglis, Biſhop of the Dioceſe of Nova Scotia, or the Biſhop of the ſaid Dioceſe for the time being; our truſty and well-beloved Samuel Saller Blowers, Chief Juſtice of our ſaid Province of Nova-Scotia, or the Chief Juſtice of our ſaid Province for the time being; our truſty and well-beloved Alexander Croke, Judge of our Court of Vice Admiralty in Nova Scotia, or the Judge of our Court of Vice-Admiralty in our ſaid Province for the time being; our truſty and well-beloved Richard John Uniacke, acke, Speaker of our Houſe of Aſſembly, and Attorney-General of our ſaid Province of Nova-Scotia, or the Speaker of our Houſe of Aſſembly, and the Attorney-General for our ſaid Province, ſeverally, for the time being; our truſty and well-beloved James Stewart, Solicitor General for our ſaid Province of Nova Scotia, or the Solicitor-General of our ſaid Province, for the time being; our truſty and well-beloved Benning Wentworth, Secretary of our ſaid Province of Nova-Scotia, or the Secretary of our ſaid Province for the time being, together with ſuch other perſon or perſons as ſhall be elected in manner hereinafter mentioned, ſhall be GOVERNORS of the ſaid College, and that the ſaid College ſhall conſiſt of one PRESIDENT, three or more FELLOWS and PROFESSORS, and twelve or more SCHOLARS, at ſuch ſalaries, and ſubject to ſuch proviſions, regulations, limitations, rules, qualifications and reſtrictions, as ſhall hereafter be appointed by the ſtatutes, rules, and ordinances of the ſaid College, and until ſuch ſtatutes, rules and ordinances, ſhall have been framed, ſubject, in all reſpects, to the orders and directions, and eligible and removeable at the pleaſure of the ſaid Governors, or of the major part of them. And that the ſaid Governors, or the major part of them, ſhall have the power of electing the preſident of the ſaid College, for the time being, to be a governor of the ſaid College, and alſo of electing any other perſon or perſons, not exceeding three in number (ſubject to ſuch regulations as ſhall be appointed by the ſtatutes, rules and ordinances, of the ſaid College) to be a governor or governors of the ſaid College.

And we do by theſe preſents, for us, our heirs and ſucceſſors, will, ordain and grant, that the ſaid governors, preſident, and fellows, and their ſucceſſors for ever, ſhall be one diſtinct and ſeparate body politic and corporate, in deed and in name, by the name and ſtyle of the GOVERNORS, PRESIDENT and FELLOWS of KING'S COLLEGE at WINDSOR, in the Province of NOVA SCOTIA; and that by the ſame name, they ſhall have perpetual ſucceſſion, and a common ſeal, and that they and their ſucceſſors ſhall, from time to time, have full power to break, alter, make new, or change, ſuch common ſeal, at their will and pleaſure, and as ſhall be found expedient; and that by the ſame name, the ſaid governors, preſident and fellows, and their ſucceſſors, from time to time and at all times hereafter ſhall be a body politic and corporate, in deed and in law, and be able and capable to have, take, receive, purchaſe, acquire, hold, poſſeſs, enjoy, and retain; and we do hereby for us, our heirs and ſucceſſors, give and grant full authority, and free licence to them and their ſucceſſors by the name aforeſaid, to have, take, receive, purchaſe, acquire, hold, poſſeſs, enjoy and retain, to and for the uſe of the ſaid College, notwithſtanding any ſtatutes or ſtatute of mortmain, any manors, rectories, advowſons, meſſuages, lands, tenements, rents, and hereditaments of what kind, nature or quality ſoever, ſo as that the ſame do not exceed in yearly value the ſum of ſix thouſand pounds above all charges: and moreover, to take, purchaſe, acquire, have, hold, enjoy, receive, poſſeſs and retain, notwithſtanding any ſuch ſtatute, or ſtatutes, to the contrary, all or any goods, chattles, charitable and other contributions, gifts and benefactions whatſoever: and that the ſaid governors, preſident, and fellows, and their ſucceſſors, by the ſame name, ſhall and may be able and capable in law, to ſue and be ſued, implead and be impleaded, anſwer and be anſwered, in all or any court, or courts of record or places of judicature within our United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and our ſaid province of Nova Scotia, and other our dominions, and in all and ſingular actions, cauſes, pleas, ſuits, matters, ters and demands whatsoever, of what kind and nature or sort soever, in as large, ample, and beneficial manner and form, as any other body politic and corporate, or any other, our liege subjects, being persons able and capable in law, may or can have, take, purchase receive, hold, possess, enjoy, retain, sue, implead or answer, or be sued, impleaded, or answered in any manner whatsoever.

And we do by these presents, for us, our heirs and successors, will, ordain and grant, that the Governors of the said College or the major part of them, shall have power and authority to frame and make STATUTES, RULES, and ORDINANCES, touching and concerning the good government of the said College, the performance of divine service therein, the studies, lectures, exercises, degrees in arts and faculties, and all matters regarding the same; the election, qualification and residence, of the president, fellows, and scholars, the management of the revenues and property of the said College, the salaries, stipends; and provision for the president, fellows, scholars and officers of the said College, and also touching and concerning any other matter or thing which to them shall seem good, fit, useful, and agreeable to this our Charter: and also from time to time, to revoke, augment, or alter all, every or any of the said statutes, rules, and ordinances, as to them or the major part of them, shall seem meet and expedient. Provided, that the said statutes, rules and ordinances, or any of them, shall not be repugnant to the laws and statutes of this our realm, and of our said Province of Nova-Scotia; provided also, that the said statutes, rules, and ordinances, or any revocation, augmentation, or alteration thereof, be subject to the approbation of the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, for the time being, and shall be forthwith transmitted to the said Lord Archbishop, for that purpose; and that in case the said Lord Archbishop shall signify, in writing, his disapprobation thereof, within three years of the time of their being so made and framed, or of their being so revoked, augmented, or altered, the same or such part thereof, as shall be so disapproved by the said Lord Archbishop, shall, from the time of such disapprobation being made known be utterly void and of no effect, but otherwise shall be and remain in full force and virtue.

And we do hereby for us, our heirs and successors, charge and command that the statutes, rules and ordinances, aforesaid, subject to the said provisions, shall be strictly and inviolably observed, kept and performed, from time to time, so long as they shall respectively remain, in full vigour and effect, under the penalties to be thereby, or therein, inflicted or contained.

And we do by these presents for us our heirs and successors, will, order, direct, and appoint that the said Lord Archbishop of Canterbury for the time being, shall be PATRON of the said College, and the Bishop of Nova-Scotia for the time being, shall be VISITOR of the said College.

And we do further will, ordain and grant, that the said College shall be deemed and taken to be an UNIVERSITY, and shall have and enjoy all such and the like privileges as are enjoyed by our Universities in our United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, as far as the same are capable of being had and enjoyed, by virtue of these our Letters Patent. And that the students in the said College shall have liberty and faculty of taking the degrees of Batchelor, Master, and Doctor in the several arts and faculties at the appointed times: and shall have liberty within themselves of performing all scholastic exercises for the conferring such degrees in such manner as shall be directed by the statutes, rules, and ordinances of the said College.

And

And We will, and by these presents for us, our heirs and successors, do grant and declare, that these our Letters Patent, or the enrolment or exemplications thereof, shall and may be good, firm, valid, sufficient and effectual in the law, according to the true intent and meaning of the same, and shall be taken, construed and adjudged, in the most favourable and beneficial sense for the best advantage of the said Governors, President and Fellows, of the said College at Windsor aforesaid, as well in all our Courts of Record as elsewhere, and by all and singular Judges, Justices, Officers, Ministers, and other subjects whatsoever, of us, our heirs and successors, any mis-recital, non-recital, omission, imperfection, defect, matter, cause or thing, whatsoever, to the contrary thereof in any wise notwithstanding; without fine or fee, great or small, to be for the same in any manner rendered, done or paid to us in our Hanaper, or elsewhere to our use.

And lastly, we do hereby promise and declare for us, our heirs and successors, that we and they shall and will, at all times hereafter, give and grant to the aforesaid governors, president and fellows, and their successors, such other reasonable powers and authorities, as may be necessary for the government of the said College and the more effectual execution of the Premises.

In WITNESS whereof, we have caused these our Letters to be made Patent.—Witness ourself at Westminster, the twelfth day of May, in the forty-second year of our reign.

WE, Sir JOHN WENTWORTH, Baronet, Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Nova-Scotia; the Right Reverend Father in God, CHARLES INGLIS, Bishop of the Diocese of Nova-Scotia; SAMPSON SALTER BLOWERS, Chief Justice of the said Province; ALEXANDER CROKE, Judge of the Court of Vice-Admiralty in the said Province; RICHARD JOHN UNIACKE, Speaker of the House of Assembly, and Attorney-General of the said Province; JAMES STEWART, Solicitor-General of the said Province; and BENNING WENTWORTH, Secretary of the said Province; being the Governors appointed by his Majesty, in the said Charter, or the major part of them, in virtue of the power and authority so vested in us, for the good government of the said College and University, and for other good, fit, and useful purposes, agreeable to the said Charter, have framed and made, and do hereby enact, establish, and promulgate, the Statutes, Rules and Ordinances, hereafter following; and we do hereby, for us, and our Successors, order, direct, and appoint, that they shall henceforth be diligently and literally observed, kept, and performed, by all persons whom they shall concern, without subterfuge, or evasion, and according to their true intent and meaning, so long as they shall respectively remain in full vigor, and effect. IN WITNESS WHEREOF, we have hereunto affixed our Seals and Signatures, this Eighteenth day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and three.

OF THE

UNIVERSITY OF KING'S COLLEGE,

AT WINDSOR,

IN THE

PROVINCE OF NOVA-SCOTIA.

BOOK I. OF THE COLLEGE.

OF PERSONS.

Title 1. Of the Governors.

§ 1. The Governor, or Lieutenant-Governor, of the Province of Nova-Scotia, for the time being; the Bishop of the Diocese of Nova-Scotia, for the time being; the Chief Justice of the said Province, for the time being; the Judge of the Court of Vice-Admiralty, in the said Province, for the time being; the Speaker of the House of Assembly, and the Attorney-General for the said Province, severally, for the time being; the Solicitor-General of the said Province, for the time being; the Secretary of the said Province, for the time being; together with such other person, or persons, as shall be elected in manner herein after mentioned, are Governors of the College.

§ 2. The Governors, or the major part of them, have the power of electing the President of the College for the time being, to be a Governor of the College, and also of electing any other person, or persons, not exceeding three in number, (subject to such regulations as shall be appointed by the Statutes, Rules, and Ordinances of the College) to be a Governor, or Governors, of the College.

§ 3. The Governors, or the major part of them, have power and authority to frame and make Statutes, Rules and Ordinances, touching and concerning the good government of the College, the performance of divine service therein, the studies, lectures, exercises, degrees in arts, and faculties, and all matters regarding the same; the election, tion, qualification, and residence of the President, Fellows, and Scholars, the management of the revenues and property of the College, the Salaries, Stipends, and provision for the President, Fellows, Scholars, and Officers of the College, and also touching and concerning any other matter or thing, which to them shall seem good, fit, useful, and agreeable to his Majesty's Charter: and also from time to time, to revoke, augment, or alter all, every, or any, of the said Statutes, Rules and Ordinances, as to them, or the major part of them shall seem meet and expedient. Provided that the said Statutes, Rules, and Ordinances or any of them shall not be repugnant to the Laws and Statutes of the Realm, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and of the Province of Nova Scotia. Provided also that the said Statutes, Rules, and Ordinances, or any revocation, augmentation, or alteration thereof, be subject to the approbation of the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, for the time being, and shall be forthwith transmitted to the said Lord Archbishop for that purpose; and that in case the said Lord Archbishop shall signify in writing his disapprobation thereof, within three years of the time of their being so made and framed, or of their being so revoked, augmented, or altered, the same, or such part thereof, as shall be so disapproved by the said Lord Archbishop, shall, from the time of such disapprobation being made known, be utterly void and of no effect, but otherwise shall be and remain in full force and virtue.

§ 4. The President, Professors and Fellows, Scholars, Librarian, Steward, and all other Officers, and Servants, of the College, whenever and as often as any vacancy shall happen, unless where it shall be otherwise provided by the Statutes, shall be elected and appointed by the Governors, or the major part of them.

§ 5. The Governors, or the major part of them, as Trustees, shall have the sole disposal and management of the funds of the College, of the buildings, and of all other property belonging to it, whether fixed or moveable, and shall have the sole power of affixing the College seal to any paper, or instrument whatever, by which any propety shall be transferred, or acquired.

§ 6. They shall have a general superintendance over all the affairs of the College, and over the conduct of the President, Professors and Fellows, Scholars, and all other Members.

§ 7. They shall have power and authority, both originally, and upon appeal, to suspend, to deprive and to remove from their offices, or to expell, the President, the Professors, and Fellows, the Scholars, and all other Officers, and Members of the University and College, according to their discretion, in the cases prescribed by the Statutes for gross neglect of duty, for legal crimes, and great enormities, and upon other just occasions.

§ 8. In order the better to enable them to carry into effect the powers aforesaid, they shall be authorised and impowered, at their annual or any other meetings, to summon before them the President, the Professors, and Fellows, the Scholars, and all other Members of the University or College, and all other persons belonging to the same, and to examine them upon their oaths, which they are hereby authorised to administer, or otherwise touching all matters whatsoever, relating to the University or College, or any of its Officers, or Members.

§ 9. They shall hold an annual meeting, at the College at Windsor, upon the Monday pre-preceding the third Thurſday in September, which ſhall be continued, by adjournments, for ſo many days as the buſineſs to be done may require.

§ 10. At their annual, and any other meetings which they may think proper to hold at Windſor, they ſhall be entitled to the free uſe of the Hall, the Common Room, the Library, and all other public rooms, buildings, or gardens, belonging to the College; and they ſhall be ſupplied with dinners, and other meals, with wine, and other neceſſaries, according to their own choice, and at their own expence, by the Steward, and ſhall be waited upon, and attended, by the College Servants.

Title 2. Of the Patron.

§ 1. The Lord Archbiſhop of Canterbury, for the time being, is Patron of the College.

§ 2. All Statutes, Rules, and Ordinances, framed and made by the Governors, and all revocations, augmentations, or alterations thereof are ſubject to the approbation of the Lord Archbiſhop of Canterbury, for the time being, in the manner before declared.

Title 3. Of the Viſitor.

§ 1. The Biſhop of Nova Scotia, for the time being, is Viſitor of the College.

§ 2. It is the office of the Viſitor to take care that the Statutes be obſerved, to enquire into all irregularities that may ariſe, to inſpect the conduct of the Preſident, the Profeſſors and Fellows, the Scholars, and all other Members of the College, more particularly in what concerns their religious principles, and behaviour, to admoniſh offenders, to reform abuſes, and to puniſh offences according to the tenor of the Statutes. Provided always, that he ſhall not ſuſpend, or remove from any place, or office of emolument, baniſh for a longer time than two terms, expell, or totally deprive of his degree, any Member of the Univerſity, or appoint to any office, or place, within the Univerſity or College, without the conſent, and concurrence, of the Governors, or the major part of them.

§ 3. In order the better to enable him to carry into effect the powers aforeſaid, he ſhall be authoriſed and impowered to ſummon before him the Preſident, the Profeſſors and Fellows, the Scholars, and all other members of the Univerſity or College, and all other perſons belonging to the ſame, and to examine them upon their oaths, which they are hereby authoriſed to adminiſter, or otherwiſe touching all matters whatſoever, relating to the Univerſity and College, or any of its Officers or Members.

Title 4. Of the College.

§ 1. The College conſiſts of one Preſident, three or more Fellows, and Profeſſors, and twelve or more Scholars. It is likewiſe neceſſary to the eſtabliſhment that there ſhould be a Vice-Preſident or Dean, a Treaſurer, Tutors, a Burſar, Proctors, a Chaplain, and a Librarian, beſides a Steward, and other inferior Officers, and Servants. There may alſo be Members who receive no ſalary, or emolument from the College.

Title.

Title 5. Of the Internal Government of the College.

§ 1. The immediate government of the College shall be vested in the President and all the Fellows, who shall hold Meetings, for that purpose, as often as there may be occasion, at which every question shall be determined, by the majority of votes, and in case of an equality of votes, the President shall have the casting voice. But nothing agreed upon shall be valid without the consent of the President.

§ 2. All College Meetings shall be convened by the President, whenever he may think proper.

§ 3. The President shall convoke a College Meeting, within one week after a request in writing to that effect, signed by one of the Fellows, shall have been delivered to him.

§ 4. Nothing transacted at any meeting shall be valid unless notice of time and place, and of the subjects proposed to be discussed, shall have been given, at least one week before the meeting, to each individual Fellow, nor shall any meeting be valid which shall be held in vacation time; unless, in either case, all the Fellows shall be present at such Meeting.

§ 5. But, after notice as aforesaid, no transaction of any meeting held in term time shall be invalid on account of the absence of any Fellow, provided there be present a majority of the whole number, including the President.

§ 6. At such Meetings, the President, and the major part of the Fellows, shall have power to make and establish temporary Rules, Orders, and Regulations, not contrary to the Statutes, whenever it shall be necessary, or expedient, for the better carrying the Statutes into effect, or in cases for which no provision is made.

§ 7. At those Meetings all other affairs of the College shall be transacted, whether relating to morals, learning, the good government and œconomy of the house, or the election, or removing of officers, and servants, in so far as any such matters are intrusted by the Statutes to the management of the President and Fellows.

§ 8. The President, and Fellows, shall have no power to dispose of the property of the College, either by Lease, or otherwise, or to affix the College Seal to any paper, or instrument whatever for that purpose.

§ 9. All Rules, Orders, Regulations, Elections, and Appointments, made by the President and Fellows, and all regular proceedings at the College Meetings, shall be communicated and submitted to the Governors, at their annual, and other, meetings, who may annul, alter, or confirm them.

Title 6. Of the President.

§ 1. The President, whenever the office shall be vacant, shall be elected and appointed by the Governors, or the ma or part of them.

§ 2. Whenever a vacancy shall happen, the Vice-President, or senior Fellow then in College, shall give notice thereof, within three days, to all the Governors. The Vice-President, or, if there be no Vice-President, the senior Fellow, then in College, shall execute the office of President, during the vacancy, unless the Governors, or the major part of them, shall otherwise direct, who may assign a proportionable part of the President's Salary to the person who shall execute the office.

§ 3. No person shall be elected, or appointed President, who shall not have taken the degree of Master of Arts, or Bachelor in Civil Law, in the regular manner, not by Diploma; (usually so called, in contradistinction to degrees conferred upon Students, who have kept the residence, and performed the exercises, required by the Statute) by special favor, or honoris causa, in the Universities of Oxford, or Cambridge, in the Kingdom of Great-Britain, or of Windsor, in Nova-Scotia.

§ 4. Every person who shall be elected President, before he shall receive his appointment, shall take the oaths of allegiance, and supremacy, and shall subscribe the thirty-nine Articles, and the three Articles of Religion, and shall likewise take the oath of office.

§ 5. The President shall continue in office during life, and good behaviour, but he may be removed by the Governors for non-observance of the Statutes, and for other just causes.

§ 6. The President shall receive an annual salary of five hundred pounds sterling, and shall be allowed a house, or suitable apartments in the College.

§ 7. He shall reside in the College during the whole of every term, and shall forfeit the sum of forty shillings, sterling, for every day of absence in term time; which forfeiture he shall be bound, under his oath of office, without being thereunto required, to pay to the Bursar, or Treasurer, for the use of the College fund; and besides, in case his absences shall be long, or frequent, he shall be liable to be removed from his office by the Governors.

§ 8. He shall not take any boys, or young men, as pupils, or scholars, who shall not be members of the College, nor shall he keep a school, or assist in teaching in any school, under any pretence whatsoever.

§ 9. It shall be the office of the President, to enter Students of the College; to take care that the Statutes be faithfully executed, as well by the Professors, Tutors, and other Officers of the College, as by the Students, in their respective stations; to enforce discipline, by inflicting just punishments upon offenders, and where these shall be found insufficient, by giving information to the Visitor, or Governors, of all offences, and of every neglect of duty; to be the parent, and guardian, of all young men intrusted to his protection, by directing their studies, and by furthering and promoting, by every means in his power, their progress in religion and learning; to order and preside over all the College exercises, to have an active inspection over all the affairs of the College; and, therefore, with the Bursar, to attend to the œconomy of the house, and, with the Librarian, to the care of the Library, and to regulate the inferior Officers and Servants.

Title 7. Of the Professors and Fellows.

Chapter 1st. Generally.

§ 1. The Professors and Fellows shall be elected and appointed by the Governors, or the major part of them, and shall continue in office during life, and good behaviour.

§ 2. Upon the vacancy of a Professorship, by death, or otherwise, the President shall immediately give notice to the Governors, and shall appoint some person, duly qualified, to read the usual lectures, till a new Professor shall be appointed, or the Governors, or the major part of them, shall otherwise direct. And the person so appointed shall receive a proportionable share of the salary for the time he shall perform the duties of the office.

§ 3. No person shall be appointed to any Professorship, who shall not have taken the degree of Master of Arts, or Bachelor in Civil Law, in the regular manner, and not by Diploma, special grace, or honoris causa, in one of the Universities of Oxford or Cambridge, in the Kingdom of Great-Britain, or in the University of Windsor, in Nova-Scotia.

§ 4. The Professor of Divinity shall likewise be a Clergyman, in full Orders, of the Church of England.

§ 5. Every person, who shall be elected to a Professorship, before he shall receive his appointment, shall take the oaths of allegiance and supremacy, and of office, and shall subscribe the thirty-nine Articles, and the three Articles of Religion.

§ 6. Each Professor shall receive an annual salary of Two Hundred Pounds, sterling; of which, Twenty Pounds shall be allowed in commons only.

§ 7. Every Student shall pay the Professors for each course of lectures which he shall attend, Twenty Shillings, sterling.

§ 8. Every Professor shall reside in the College from the beginning to the end of every term, under the penalty of Ten Shillings sterling a day, for every day of absence, and shall besides be liable to expulsion in case his absences shall be long or frequent. One Fellow or Professor, taking it in rotation, shall remain in College during every vacation. The Fellows will be expected to dine in the Hall generally, but one at least shall always dine there.

§ 9. No Professor shall take any boys, or young men, as pupils or scholars, who shall not be members of the College, or shall keep a school, or assist in teaching in any school, under any pretence whatsoever; nor shall any persons, not members of the College, be admitted to attend any of the Professors Lectures.

§ 10. Every Lecture shall be read in the College Hall, in the Professors apartment, or other convenient place within the College, to be appointed by the President, and shall continue for one hour at least.

§ 11. Every Professor shall read his Lectures in person, and not by deputy; unless in case of sickness, or other absolutely unavoidable impediment, which shall be allowed of by the President; who, in such case, shall appoint some person, properly qualified, to execute his office, and shall allow him a reasonable stipend for his trouble, which shall be deducted out of the Professor's salary.

§ 12. Every Professor, for the omission of each lecture which he is appointed to read by the Statutes, except in the cases before mentioned, shall forfeit the sum of Five Shillings, sterling.

§ 13. No Professor, directly or indirectly, shall teach, or maintain, any atheistical, deistical, or democratical principles, or any doctrines contrary to the christian faith, or to good morals, or subversive of the British constitution, as by law established, on pain of the forfeiture of one year's salary, of removal from the Professorship, degradation from his degrees, and expulsion from the University: the infliction of these penalties shall be vested in the Visitor, or Governors as the case may be.

§ 14. Every Professor shall be ready and condescending to explain to his Pupils any difficulties which may occur in his lectures, either at the time, or after each lecture is concluded.

§ 15. Every Professor shall have power and authority to punish his Pupils for neglect of duty.

§ 1. The Steward, Manciple, and Butler, shall be immediately under the directions and controul of the Bursar.

§ 2. He shall be allowed such salary and emoluments as the Governors shall direct, and apartments in the College.

§ 3. It shall be his office to provide every thing which shall appertain to the Commons, battel, or board of the College.

1st. Either by contract, or

2dly. As servant to the College, to go to market to buy fish, meat, and vegetables, to take care that they be properly dressed; to provide bread, beer, and wine; to furnish linen, plates and dishes, salt, and other conveniences, for the Hall, and to take care of such as shall be supplied by the College.

§ 4. He shall attend at the Buttery from eight to nine, every morning, and from five to six, every evening, to serve milk, bread, and butter, and from eight to nine, every evening, to serve bread, butter, cheese, cold meat, vegetables and beer.

§ 5. He shall bring his book every day after dinner to the President, Vice-President, or senior Fellow who shall dine in hall, to note who shall be present, and who absent, and to settle the Commons. He shall likewise enter all departures from the College and returns to it, and every member shall notify to him his quitting College, and his return.

§ 6. He shall keep a regular book of accounts of all matters relating to his office, under the inspection of the Bursar, which shall be audited quarterly by the College, and annually by the Governors.

§ 7. He shall act as clerk, or secretary, to the Bursar, and shall assist him in all matters relating to his office, and shall controul all the inferior servants.

Title 20. Of the Menial Servants.

§ 1. These shall be Servants, who shall all be men, boys, or elderly women only, to wait in the hall or common room, to make beds, and attend the members of the College in their rooms.

OF THINGS.

Title 1. Of Property, Revenue, and Expenditure.

§ 1. The sole management of the revenues, and property of the College, shall be vested in the Governors.

§ 2. All salaries shall be paid quarterly, and in case of the death of the persons who shall enjoy them, their legal representatives shall be entitled to a proportionable share of the current quarter.

§ 3. Every person upon his appointment to the Presidentship, a Professorship, or a Scholarship, shall be entitled to all arrears of salary which shall have accrued since the death of his predecessor, provided they shall not exceed one year's salary; except the proportionable share which shall be due to his Representatives; and except the whole, or any part, of the salary, which shall have been assigned to the person who shall have performed the duties of the office, during the vacancy.

Title 2. Of the Buildings and Scite of the College.

§ 1. All repairs shall be done by the College, except mending windows, inside painting and papering, and such smaller repairs, which are calculated rather for ornament than use, within the house and apartments of the President, and other members.

Title 3. Of the Chapel.

§ 1. Till a Chapel shall be erected, the Hall shall be used for the purpose of performing Divine Service.

Title 4. Of the Hall, or Refectory.

§ 1. The Hall, or Refectory, is designed as the dining or supper room for all the members of the College; for daily prayers till a Chapel shall be erected; for lectures, disputations, declamations, and other College exercises; for the convocation to assemble in; and for all other public collegiate, or university business.

§ 2. At meals, there shall be a high table for the President, the Professors and Fellows, all Masters of Arts, Bachelors of Civil Law, and Graduates of higher degrees. A second table for Bachelors of Arts, and Civilians; and a third table for all Undergraduates.

§ 3. The hour of dinner shall be three, and the Hall shall be open at eight o'clock every evening, for such members as shall choose to sup there.

§ 4. One of the Fellows, at least, shall dine in the Hall every day.

§ 5. A certain place in the Hall shall be appropriated to the affixing up of all notices, respecting respecting Collegiate, or University business, and no one shall presume to take them down, to tear, cut, or otherwise deface them.

Title 5. Of the Common Room.

§ 1. There shall be a Common Room for the use of the President, Professors, and Fellows, Masters of Arts, Bachelors of Civil Law, and Graduates of higher degrees, to withdraw into after dinner, for the business of the College, and other purposes. It may likewise be used as a lecture room.

Title 6. Of the Library.

§ 1. The Governors shall particularly inspect and examine the Library, at their annual meetings.

§ 2. There shall be cases with locks for valuable books, medals, coins, and other things of consequence, which shall not be taken out of the Library, without an express licence from the President, and there shall be a book kept to enter all books taken out and returned.

§ 3. No person shall have a key of the library, except the President and the Librarian, who shall not lend them.

§ 4. The Governors, the President, the Professors and Fellows, Bachelors of Arts, and Civilians, and members of higher degrees, or other members of the University by a written licence from the President, and no other persons whatsoever shall be admitted to read in the library.

§ 5. No licence shall be granted for a longer period than three months.

§ 6. The library shall be open for persons to read there, from ten o'clock, till two, every day, in term time, except Sundays and holydays.

Title 2. Of Matriculation.

§ 1. The Registrar of the University shall keep a Matricula or Register, in which the names of all persons who shall be admitted members of the University shall be enrolled; with their age, places of birth, and education, and the names, rank, trade, or profession, and place of residence of their parents.

§ 2. Matriculation shall be the office of the President.

§ 3. No person shall be matriculated who shall not have completed his fifteenth year.

§ 4. No person shall be matriculated who shall not be competently skilled in the Greek and Latin languages, and who shall not be able to construe the books usually read by boys in the higher classes in the public schools in Great-Britain. Every person who shall apply for admission shall be examined by the President, and one of the Professors.

§ 5. Every person, before he shall be matriculated, shall subscribe the thirty-nine articles of the Church of England, and shall take the oaths of allegiance and supremacy, and for the observance of the Statutes, in the presence of the President.

§ 6. Any person may be matriculated in vacation, and the term following shall be reckoned as his first term.

Title 3. Of Lodging.

§ 1. All the members of the University shall lodge in the College, if there shall be sufficient apartments to accommodate them.

§ 2. If there shall not be rooms sufficient to receive all the members, they who shall not be able to procure apartments, may lodge out of the College, with the consent of the President, and with his express approbation of the place of lodging. And it shall be his duty to take care that they shall be placed in respectable houses, as near as may be to the College, and not in any inn, tavern, hotel, coffee-house, common boarding-house, or other public house.

§ 3. No Undergraduate, or Bachelor of Arts, shall sleep out of the College, without leave from the President.

§ 4. No member shall permit any person to lodge with him in his apartments.

Title 4. Of Board.

§ 1. All Undergraduates and Bachelors of Arts shall take their commons at dinner in the Hall every day, and shall not dine out without leave from the President. They shall breakfast in their own apartments, and may sup, either in the Hall, or in their own apartments, at their option.

§ 2. All Fellows, Professors, and Scholars, shall pay for their commons in Hall, every day in term time whether they shall dine there or not.

§ 3. All Undergraduates, and Bachelors of Arts during their residence shall pay for their commons in Hall, every day in term time whether they shall dine there or not.

§ 4. Masters of Arts, Bachelors in Civil Law, and members of higher degrees, not on the foundation, shall pay for their commons in Hall every day during their residence unless they shall give notice of their absence to the Steward the day before.

§ 5. If any member be sick, he may obtain permission from the President to have his commons in his own apartment.

§ 6. No member, under seven years standing, shall entertain any company at dinner in his own apartments, or shall have any dinners, or hot suppers, dressed in the College kitchen to be sent to his apartments, without permission from the President.

§ 7. Members of the College may occasionally introduce strangers to dine with them in the Hall, for whom they shall pay a proportionable share of the expence of the dinner. But no member under seven years standing shall introduce a stranger without permission from the President.

Title 5. Of Habits

1. The dress of all the Members of the University shall be plain, decent, and cleanly, without lace, or any other expensive, or coxcomical, ornaments.

2. The Academical habits shall be the same with those which are worn in the University of Oxford, consisting of gowns, caps, hoods, and bands, as they are appropriated to each degree, faculty, standing, station, or situation, respectively.

§ 3. No member of the University shall appear out of the College, within the town, or township of Windsor, without his Academical habit, unless with the permission of the President.

Title 6. Of Lectures.

§ 1. Every Student shall attend the lectures appropriated to his standing, or degree, every day, in term time, except Sundays and holydays, the first, and the two last days of every term, and shall not absent himself from any lecture without the permission of the President, for some reasonable cause, signified in writing, and approved by the Professor.

§ 2. Every Student during his first year shall attend lectures in Grammar and the Greek and Latin Classics, with his Tutor; and, under the Professors, in Rhetoric, and in Logic. During his second year, in the Greek and Latin Classics with his Tutor; and in Ethics, in the higher Arithmetic, and Geometry, with the respective Professors. During his third year, in the Greek and Latin Classics with the Professors; in General Jurisprudence, the Laws of Nature and Nations, the Civil and Municipal Laws, in Political Science and Œconomy, in Algebra, Trigonometry and the Conic Sections, under the respective Professors. During his fourth year, in the Greek and Latin Classics, in Natural Philosophy, and Astronomy, in the Science of Theology, in Metaphysics, in History, Geography, and Chronology, in the Polite Arts, and the application of Science under the respective Professors. Candidates for Holy orders, and all other Students who shall choose it, shall attend the lectures upon the Hebrew Language in their fourth year. All Students during their three first years shall attend the Catechetical Lectures, and the Lectures upon the principles of the Christian Religion.

§ 3. Every Student, who shall absent himself without leave, as aforesaid, shall translate the lecture so neglected, or perform some other equivalent exercise.

§ 4. Every Student shall come to Lecture properly prepared, by previously looking over that part of the book in which he is to be lectured, if it be a printed book.

Title 7. Of Exercises.

§ 1. All Undergraduates, except Civilians, shall compose a Theme every week in term, either in prose or verse, in English and Latin alternately; the subjects shall be given out every Saturday by the President, or Vice-President, and the Themes shall be delivered in to them upon the Saturday following.

§ 2. Two Declamations, the one in English and the other in Latin, shall be composed and publicly repeated in the Hall, every Saturday in term, by the Undergraduates, and Bachelors of Arts, in rotation; the subjects shall be given out by the President, or Vice President, and no theme will be required of any Student in the week in which he shall declaim. Or the Declamations may be both in the same language, upon different sides of the same question.

§ 3. Every Saturday in term, select passages from English, Latin, or Greek authors, shall be recited memoriter, in the Hall, by two or more Undergraduates.

§ 4. In these Declamations, Recitations, and in all other exercises, in which the Students shall read aloud, or speak in public, great attention shall be paid to their pronunciation, that they shall avoid all Provincial accents, and other improprieties, and shall deliver themselves with correctness, and a proper emphasis, and spirit.

§ 5. Some book, or part of a book, in English, Latin or Greek, shall be appointed, by the President, or Vice President, at the end of every term, for each Undergraduate, except Civilians, from which he shall make Collections; either by abridgement, by a logical analysis and resolution of arguments into syllogisms, or by making extracts of the finest, or most material, passages, together with his own criticisms, and observations upon them. They shall be written fair in a book, and shall be delivered in to the President, or Vice-President, upon the last day but one of the following term.

§ 6. Every Saturday in term there shall be Disputations either logical, or rhetorical, under the directions of the President, or Vice-President.

§ 7. Bachelors of Arts, and Civilians, designed for Holy Orders, shall compose a Sermon, every term, upon a text given them by the Professor of Divinity, which they shall read in Hall after it shall have been revised, and corrected by the Professor.

Title 8. Of Tuition.

§ 1. Every Undergraduate shall attend his Tutor's lectures, or whenever else his Tutor shall require it, and shall respectfully submit to, and obey his advice, reproofs, and directions, whether they shall relate to his Studies, his behaviour, or any thing else.

Title

Title 9. Of Examinations.

§ 1. Upon the last day but one of every term, all the Undergraduates, except Civilians, shall produce their Collections, and shall be examined by the President, and Professors.

§ 2. At these Examinations, the place and rank of each Undergraduate shall be assigned according to his merit, and rewards of books, or other marks of honor, shall be bestowed upon those who shall pass the best examinations.

3. If any Undergraduates, not being Civilians, shall be found to have neglected their studies, or to have been guilty of great irregularities, the President and the Fellows may declare their term not to have been kept; which judgment shall be entered in the College books, and the term shall not reckon towards their degree.

§ 4. At the annual meeting of the Governors, there shall be a more solemn examination of the Undergraduates, not Civilians, some of their compositions made in the preceding year shall be produced, and rewards and honors of higher value shall be bestowed by the Governors upon the most deserving: But no Students shall then be examined, except those who shall be designated by the President, or Professors, or who shall voluntarily offer themselves for examination, or shall be selected by the Governors themselves.

Title 10. Of Divine Service.

§ 1. All Undergraduates, and Bachelors of Arts, shall attend the College prayers, every day both in the morning and the evening.

§ 2. The Lessons shall be read by the Undergraduates, and Bachelors of Arts, in rotation, and it shall be the duty of the President, and Vice President, to take care that they be read with distinctness, propriety, and becoming solemnity.

Title 11. Of Moral Conduct and Behaviour.

§ 1. No member of the University shall be guilty of any vices, or of any immoral, or improper conduct, such as sabbath-breaking, swearing, lying, obscene or profane conversation, adultery, fornication, of being in the company of bad women, gaming, drunkenness, or of frequenting taverns, quarrelling, fighting, or the like.

§ 2. No member, under seven years standing, shall resort to any inns, taverns, or other public houses, unless upon some necessary, urgent, or particular occasion, to be allowed by the President, or shall spend their time in the Town.

§ 3. No member of the University shall hold, maintain, or teach, any atheistical deistical, or democratical doctrines, or any principles contrary to the Christian faith, or to good morals, or subversive of the British Constitution as by Law established, under pain of expulsion.

§ 4. No member of the University shall frequent the Romish mass, or the meeting Houses, Houſes of Preſbyterians, Baptiſts, or Methodiſts, or the Conventicles, or places of Worſhip, of any other diſſenters from the Church of England, or where Divine Service ſhall not be performed according to the Liturgy of the Church of England, or ſhall be preſent at any ſeditious, or rebellious meetings.

A Testimonium of his principles and moral conduct shall be exhibited as before directed, likewise a Testimonium from the examiners, and another from the President, or Proctors, that he have performed the exercises for his degree.

§ 3. When the House shall be satisfied upon these points, the degree shall be proposed, and put to the vote.

§ 4. If the question be carried in the affirmative the Candidate shall subscribe the thirty nine articles, and the three articles of Religion, in the presence of one of the Proctors, who shall certify the same to the house.

§ 5. He shall then be introduced into the convocation House, and lead up to the President's Chair, by the Proctor, if it be a Degree in Arts, or otherwise by the Professor of his faculty, and presented in solemn form.

§ 6. He shall take the oaths of allegiance and supremacy, the oath to observe the Statutes of the University, and the Library oath, if he shall not have taken it before.

§ 7. He shall then kneel down before the President's chair, who shall confer the Degree in solemn form, and shall admit him to the use of the library, if not before admitted. The Graduate shall then rise, and, after making his obeisance to the President and the House, shall retire into another room, where he shall assume the habit of his Degree. He shall then return to the Convocation House, attended by his presenter, shall repeat his obeisances, and depart.

§ 8. The Degree shall be entered in the Register of the Convocation, by the Registrar, under the directions of the President, and Letters Testimonial shall be made out, and granted to the Graduate, if he require it, under the seal of the University.

Title 21. Of Incorporation and Honorary Degrees.

§ 1. The House of Convocation shall have power to incorporate members of the Universities of Oxford, Cambridge, and Dublin, in the United Kingdom of Great-Britain, admitting undergraduates to the same standing, and graduates to the same degrees, which they shall enjoy respectively in their own Universities.

§ 2. No Graduates shall be incorporated but such as shall have taken their degrees in the regular manner, by residing the time, and performing the exercises required by the Statutes of their respective Universities, and not such as shall have taken their Degrees by diploma, usually so called, or honoris causa.

§ 3. Every Graduate who shall be admitted by incorporation, whatever shall be his standing in his own University, shall rank after all members of this University who shall take the same degree within the same year in which he shall be incorporated.

§ 4. No degrees whatever, in any art, or faculty, unless by incorporation, as before limited, shall be conferred by special grace, by diploma, or otherwise, upon any other persons than members of the University, who shall have kept the residence, performed the exercises, and complied with all the other regulations, prescribed by the Statutes.

§ 5. Except that the House of Convocation, with the consent of the Governors, or the major part of them, shall have power to confer Honorary Degrees upon highly eminent, or illustrious personages, either British subjects, or Foreigners, who shall visit the University—And all persons who shall receive this honor, shall enjoy the title, and rank, of the respective degrees which shall be conferred upon them, but shall not be entitled to, or exercise, any other powers, authorities, or privileges, belonging to such degree, within the British dominions, which restriction, and exception, shall be expressed in their Letters Testimonial.

§ 6. Before any person shall be admitted by Incorporation he shall produce letters testimonial from the University of which he shall be a member, testifying his standing, or degree, and shall take the oaths, and subscribe the articles as required upon matriculation.

Title 22. Of the Encænia, and Public Act.

§ 1. A Feaſt, to be called the Encænia, ſhall be celebrated annually upon the Monday preceeding the third Thurſday of September, in commemoration of the Foundation of the Univerſity by his moſt gracious Majeſty King George the Third.

§ 2. On this day the Governors, with the Preſident, Profeſſors, and Fellows, Scholars, and all other members of the Univerſity, in their proper habits, ſhall proceed to the College Chapel, or the pariſh Church of Windſor, where they ſhall hear divine ſervice, and a ſermon ſhall be preached by the Profeſſor of Divinity.

§ 3. After divine ſervice they ſhall repair to the College Hall, where ſhall be held the public Academical Act.

§ 4. An oration, in praiſe of the inſtitution, and in commemoration of the Founder, and other benefactors, ſhall be delivered by the Preſident, or ſuch other member of the Univerſity as he ſhall appoint.

§ 5. The candidates, for degrees, ſhall ſpeak their declamations, and perform ſuch other parts of their exerciſes, as the Governors ſhall think proper.

§ 6. Degrees ſhall then be conferred, as at other times, in the regular manner, according to the Statutes.

§ 7. Maſters of Arts, Bachelors in Civil Law, and Doctors in Divinity, Law, and Phyſic, who ſhall have taken their degrees previouſly, ſhall be admitted to their regency, as members of the houſe of Convocation, and ſhall take the oath inſerted in the Appendix. They who ſhall have been admitted to their regency as Maſters of Arts, or Bachelors in Civil Law, ſhall receive a new admiſſion upon taking the degree of Doctor, in any of the Faculties.

§ 8. There ſhall be an examination of Undergraduates, and rewards ſhall be beſtowed upon the moſt deſerving.

§ 9. Two Prizes ſhall be given annually conſiſting of books, to the value of ten pounds ſterling each for the two beſt compoſitions, in Latin, or Engliſh, in proſe or verſe, ſhall be directed by the Governors, who ſhall give out the reſpective ſubjects at their annual Meetings. The competitors ſhall ſend their compoſitions to the Treaſurer before the Eaſter vacation. At the bottom of his compoſition each author ſhall affix a motto, and ſhall write his name upon a ſeparate paper, which ſhall be carefully ſealed up, and diſtinguiſhed on the outſide by a motto, correſponding with that on his compoſition. The Governors, without opening the ſealed papers, ſhall conſider the different compoſitions and decide upon their merits. The ſealed papers according with the compoſitions, which ſhall be judged worthy of the prize, ſhall then be opened, the ſucceſsful Candidates ſhall be declared, and the other compoſitions, with the ſealed papers unopened, ſhall be deſtroyed. The Prize compoſitions ſhall be publicly recited at the Encænia.

§ 10. Speeches, diſputations, or other Academical exerciſes, ſhall be ſpoken, or performed, by any members of the Univerſity, who ſhall obtain the Preſident's permiſſion.

§ 11. The Public Act ſhall then be cloſed, by the Preſident, in ſolemn form.

Title 23. Of Rank and Precedence.

§ 1. The officers, and members of the Univerſity and College ſhall take Precedence according to the following table:

1. The Preſident,
2. Doctors in Divinity,
3. Doctors in Civil Law,
4. Doctors in Phyſic,
5. Bachelors in Divinity,
6. Bachelors in Civil Law,
7. Bachelors in Phyſic,
8. Doctors in Muſic,
9. Bachelors in Muſic,
10. Maſters in Arts,
11. Bachelors in Arts, and Civilians, or Students in the Civil Law, who ſhall have completed four years of reſidence, and ſhall have performed the exerciſes required by the Statutes; and who ſhall be entitled, in every reſpect, to the ſame privileges as Bachelors of Arts,
12. Undergraduates.

§ 2. All Graduates of the ſame faculty and degree ſhall rank amongſt each other according to the time of their admiſſion to their degrees.

§ 3. Every Graduate admitted by incorporation, whatever may be his ſtanding in his own Univerſity, ſhall rank after all who ſhall take the ſame degree in this Univerſity within the ſame year in which he is incorporated.

§ 4. The Vice-Preſident ſhall rank next to the Preſident within the College, and all Profeſſors and Fellows, within the College, ſhall have precedence before all other members of the College, however ſuperior to them in degree or otherwiſe.

§ 5. Undergraduates ſhall rank according to the date of their matriculation, or according to the place, and ſtation, which ſhall be aſſigned them at each terminal, or annual, examination.

Title 24. Of the Univerſity Dues and Fees.

§ 1. No fees ſhall be taken by the Officers of the Univerſity, on any account, or pretence whatſoever, except ſuch as ſhall be allowed by the Statutes.

THE

THE CONCLUSION.

Title 1. Of the Sanction of the Statutes.

§ 1. Every member who shall commit an offence against the Statutes of the University, or the College, shall be liable to punishment.

§ 2. Where no specific punishment is annexed by the Statutes to any particular offence, the punishment shall be in the discretion of the person who is impowered to impose it; provided that no immoderate punishments be inflicted.

§ 3. Punishments may be pecuniary; or they may consist of impositions, or exercises; offenders may be confined to their rooms, or prohibited from leaving College for the vacation; their terms may be disallowed, their degrees deferred, or totally refused; they may be suspended, or removed, from their places or offices; may be banished from the University for a certain time, expelled, or degraded.

§ 4. The President, the Vice-President, and the Proctors, shall have the power of punishing in all cases of offences against morality or discipline, which shall be committed by Students under the degree of Masters in Arts, or Bachelor in Civil Law.

§ 5. The Professors, and the Tutors, shall have the power of punishing their pupils for non-attendance, and other offences relating to their particular offices.

§ 6. The President shall inflict all pecuniary fines, and forfeitures, imposed by the Statutes, upon all Professors, Fellows, Tutors, Scholars, Librarians, and all other officers and members of the College, who shall receive any salaries, or other emoluments from it, for non-residence, and other non-compliances with the Statutes; but the party may appeal to the Governors, or Visitor. It shall be his office likewise to give information to the Governors, or Visitor, if they shall neglect their duty.

§ 7. He shall likewise have power to impose punishments upon Masters of Arts, Bachelors in Civil Law, and members of still higher degrees, who shall receive no salaries or emoluments from the College, for offences against the Statutes, but the party may appeal to the Governors, or Visitor.

§ 8. The Governors, or the major part of them, shall have the power, both originally, and upon appeal, of suspending, of removing from their offices, and of expelling the President, and Fellows, the Scholars, and all other members of the University, or of inflicting any lesser punishments, in the cases prescribed by the Statutes, for gross neglect of duty, for legal crimes, and other great enormities.

§ 9. In every case where the party offending shall refuse to submit to lawful punishment, unless where an appeal is allowed, he shall be expelled.

§ 10. No degree shall be deferred, by way of punishment, beyond the time in which it might otherwise be conferred, but by the act of the Convocation.

§ 11. No member of the University shall be suspended, or removed, from a place, or office, of emolument, shall be banished for a longer time than two terms, expelled, or totally deprived of his degree, without the consent of the Governors, or the major part of them, them, except in cases where the Statutes have authorised the President, and Fellows, to remove certain officers at their discretion.

§ 12. All fines, forfeitures, and pecuniary punishments, if not paid before, shall be stopped, or deducted, out of the quarterly payments of the salary of the offender, if he be entitled to any from the College. The officer, who shall impose them, shall give notice, in writing, to the person who pays the salaries, who shall thereupon be bound to retain such fines, and to pay them into the College fund.

§ 13. All pecuniary fines, by whomsoever imposed, unless where, and in as much as, they shall be intended to make a just compensation to some person who shall have been injured by the offence committed, shall go to the use of the Library,

§ 14. Every member, who shall be expelled from the University, shall, by such expulsion, be deprived, de jure and de facto, of his Presidentship, Professorship, or Scholarship, and of every other office, place, situation, salary, privilege, power, and emoluments, whatsoever, which he may enjoy, or be entitled to, in, or from, the University, or College.

Title 2. Of the Interpretation, and Promulgation, of the Statutes.

§ 1. If any doubts, difficulties, or differences, shall arise respecting the true meaning, purpose, or application of any of these Statutes, the Governors alone, or the major part of them, shall have power and authority to interpret, explain, and declare their intention therein, and of deciding and determining all such doubts, difficulties, or differences.

§ 2. Authentic copies of these Statutes, signed by the Governors, shall be deposited in the Archives of the College, and in the office of the Province.

§ 3. The Statutes shall be printed, and every member, upon his admission, shall be furnished with a copy.

§ 4. The Appendix, hereunto annexed, shall be taken, and considered, as part of these Statutes, and shall be carried into execution as such.

APPENDIX.

APPENDIX.

No. 1. The Oath for the Observance of the Statutes.

I A. B. do solemnly swear that I will observe all the Statutes of this University, and College, of Windsor, to the best of my ability. So help me God.

No. 2. The Oath of Allegiance.

I A. B. do sincerely promise and swear that I will be faithful, and bear true allegiance to His Majesty King George. So help me God.

The Oath of Supremacy.

I A. B. do swear, that I do, from my heart, abhor, detest, and abjure, as impious and heretical, that damnable doctrine and position, that Princes excommunicated or deprived by the Pope, or any authority of the See of Rome, may be deposed or murthered by their subjects, or any other whatsoever.

And, I do declare, that no foreign Prince, person, prelate, State, or potentate, hath, or ought to have, any jurisdiction, power, superiority, pre-eminence, or authority, ecclesiastical or spiritual, within this realm. So help me God.

No. 3.

Three Articles, contained in the thirty-sixth canon of the book of Constitutions and Canons ecclesiastical in the Synod of London, begun in the year of our Lord 1603.

1st. That the King's Majesty, under God, is the only Supreme Governor of this realm, and of all other his Highness's dominions and countries, as well in all spiritual or ecclesiastical things or causes, as temporal; and that no foreign Prince, person, prelate, State, or potentate, hath, or ought to have, any jurisdiction, power, superiority, pre-eminence, or authority, ecclesiastical or spiritual, within his Majesty's said realms, dominions and countries.

2d. That the book of Common Prayer, and of ordering of Bishops, Priests, and Deacons, containeth in it, nothing contrary to the word of God, and that it may lawfully so be used, and that I myself will use the form in the said book prescribed, in public prayer, and administration of the Sacraments, and none other.

3d. That I allow the book of Articles of Religion, agreed upon by the Archbishops, and Bishops, of both Provinces, and the whole Clergy in the Convocation holden at London, in the year of our Lord God, one thousand five hundred sixty and two; and that I acknowledge all and every the articles therein contained, being in number nine and thirty, besides the Ratification, to be agreeable to the word of God.

No. 4. The Oath of Office.

I A. B. do ſolemnly ſwear, that I will faithfully perform all the duties of the office of to which I am now appointed, according to the Statutes of the Univerſity and College of Windſor, to the beſt of my judgment, and abilities. So help me God.
